

FARRIS NOT ON ANY COMMITTEE

President Pro Tem Fields Announces His Appointments to Senate Committees.

GIVE GENERAL SATISFACTION.

Lieutenant Governor McKinley's Suggestions for the Minority's Representation Followed Without Changes.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 9.—President pro tem Fields announced the committees of the Senate this morning before Lieutenant Governor McKinley was sworn in. It may be said on authority that not one of the Democratic Senators knew to which committee he would be assigned.

The suggestions of McKinley for the minority assignments were followed without change. Senator Farris of Crawford was not put on any committee, in accordance with his wish not to embarrass Fields. It is generally known that the committees are made up in a sensible manner.

Of course, the most discussion centers around the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, of which Dowell of Lewis, who introduced a bill aimed at the race tracks last session, is chairman. The committee is generally regarded as being against the repeal of the breeders' law, though most of the members have refused to let their positions be known. Kinsley, McAllister, J. W. Farris, Gardner and Gilmore are considered favorable to the present breeders' law.

The Education Committee is considered a high class. Kinsley of St. Louis is chairman of the Education Committee, which is favorable to change in the law.

Saragossian continues as chairman of the Insurance Committee, Nelson of the National Guard and Kinney on Penitentiary and Reformatory.

New schoolbooks stand a good chance of adoption through the committee of which Avery is chairman.

PERSONNEL OF COMMITTEES.

The committees of the Senate are as follows:

Judiciary—Fields, Walker, Morton, Dowell, Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Education—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Insurance—Nelson, Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Penitentiary and Reformatory—Kinney, Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Schools—Avery, Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Health—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Safety—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Welfare—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Works—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Finance—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Lands—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Debt—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Revenue—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Property—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Utilities—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Transportation—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Communication—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Information—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Opinion—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Action—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

Public Reaction—Kinsley, McAllister, Kinsley, Clark, Young, and Means.

GENERAL ELECTION LAW IS PREPARED

Representative Conkling's Bill May Become the Administration Measure.

TO BE PRESENTED THIS WEEK.

Carroll County Man Consulted With Folk Before Framing His Plan for Primaries in Cities—Hill's Ideas.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 9.—What may become the administration measure on a general election law has been prepared by Representative Newton Conkling of Carroll County, and will be presented this week.

In the Democratic State platform is a plank providing for the adoption of a general primary system for nominations in both parties. The present haphazard system has proved bothersome to all parties and all factions.

Representative Conkling prepared his bill after consultation with Governor-elect Folk, though the latter has not said whether he approves all of the features of the measure. The laws of Wisconsin and other States have been examined, and Mr. Conkling says that he has tried to get the best features from all of them.

The bill provides for a compulsory primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The first section of the bill is as follows: "Section 1. Hereafter, the candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more shall be nominated by a primary election held on the first Tuesday in September of each year." The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more. The bill also provides for a primary election for the nomination of all candidates for State, congressional, senatorial, and municipal offices in all cities having a population of 10,000 or more.

MAN WHO PRESENTED COLONEL KEREN'S NAME

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 9.—The inauguration of Lieutenant Governor McKinley occurred in the Senate chamber soon after the administration of the oath of office to Governor Folk in the Hall of Representatives.

Justice James B. Gault administered the oath of office to Lieutenant Governor McKinley, after which the following address was delivered to the body over which he will preside for four years:

Senators and Citizens: Under the Constitution and laws of our State, and by the successful will of my people, I have taken the oath and am now ready to assume the manifold duties and responsibilities pertaining to the high office to which the people have called me.

As this is, perhaps, the only chance I will have to make a statement to those who know me, I am sure, will be surprised when I shall avail myself of the opportunity.

I shall not, however, trespass upon your patience by reciting the usual commonplace conventionalities, but by the expression of assumed sentiment, nor by the common cant of affected modesty.

I shall not tell you that I feel my inability to properly cope with the duties of this office, because I do not feel that way. I believe that with the assistance and suggestions of the noblest men in this State, I shall be able to do my best.

As I have no special message to bring to this chamber over the deliberations of the representatives of the people assembled here, I shall not attempt to do so.

But I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

BY KINNEY SPEAKS BEFORE THE SENATE

Lieutenant Governor McKimley's Pure Democracy of Thomas Jefferson in Inaugural Speech.

ADVISES ON LAW MAKING.

Says That Although Republicans Chose Him to Preside He Would Rather Be Among the Senators as Formerly.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 9.—The inauguration of Lieutenant Governor McKimley occurred in the Senate chamber soon after the administration of the oath of office to Governor Folk in the Hall of Representatives.

Justice James B. Gault administered the oath of office to Lieutenant Governor McKimley, after which the following address was delivered to the body over which he will preside for four years:

Senators and Citizens: Under the Constitution and laws of our State, and by the successful will of my people, I have taken the oath and am now ready to assume the manifold duties and responsibilities pertaining to the high office to which the people have called me.

As this is, perhaps, the only chance I will have to make a statement to those who know me, I am sure, will be surprised when I shall avail myself of the opportunity.

I shall not, however, trespass upon your patience by reciting the usual commonplace conventionalities, but by the expression of assumed sentiment, nor by the common cant of affected modesty.

I shall not tell you that I feel my inability to properly cope with the duties of this office, because I do not feel that way. I believe that with the assistance and suggestions of the noblest men in this State, I shall be able to do my best.

As I have no special message to bring to this chamber over the deliberations of the representatives of the people assembled here, I shall not attempt to do so.

But I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

And yet I would rather have my old place on the floor of the Senate and there labor for the principles of government, than back of the scenes, where I am called upon to do the work of a legislator, sometimes ruthlessly trample upon the principles of self-government.

The Itch Fiend

That is Salt Rheum or Eczema, one of the outward manifestations of scrofula. It comes in itching, burning, scaling, drying, and scaling patches, on the face, head, hands, legs or body.

It cannot be cured by outward applications,—the blood must be rid of the impurity to which it is due.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has cured the most persistent and difficult cases. Accept no substitute for Hood's; no other will do this.

may be met with a united opposition. If I can assist you at any time or place I shall be pleased to do so.

In conclusion I wish to say that while I am in the chair the rule of the Senate will be strictly enforced, and to this end I urge your cooperation.

Thanking you for your kindness, I now await the pleasure of the Senate.

FOLK IS GOVERNOR OF COMMONWEALTH.

Continued From Page One.

Dorsey A. Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Beutler, Mr. Charles P. Benter, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. S. Barret, Miss Jeanette Macdonald, Mr. Joseph A. McIntyre, Doctor and Mrs. C. R. Lichtner, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mansur, Mr. Charles Mansur, Mr. C. D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bemis.

They occupied seats near the Supreme Court Justices. When they were the wives of the new officers elected, Wolf's Hand of St. Louis was stationed in the balcony.

President pro tem of the Senate and Speaker Hill of the House presided over the roll call. Practically every Senator and Representative were present. Senator Farris of Crawford was present. Senator McKimley entered the hall on the arm of Wornall of Clay, chairman of the Committee on Inaugural Ceremonies.

The wives of the other officers elected came in with other members of the committee. Mrs. Folk occupied a seat directly behind the reading clerk's desk and beneath the rostrum where the new Governor made his speech.

As soon as Governor Dockery and Governor-elect Folk reached the rostrum, Chief Justice Brace of the Supreme Court administered the oath of office. As the Governor-elect took the oath, the words of the oath the new Governor, with uplifted right hand, bore himself with a dignity and bearing that left no doubt of his attention to the words of the covenant.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.
Then he delivered the inaugural. It took just forty-five minutes of time. Governor-elect Folk was in fine mettles and voice, and his voice rang to every nook and corner of the room.